

PRINCIPLES OF CHARGING TENANTS

The tenant shall take good care of the apartment they have rented in accordance with the Act on Residential Leases (481/1995) and the terms of lease. According to the Act on Residential Leases, the tenant shall be liable for compensation to the lessor for any damage to the apartment caused by the tenant deliberately or through negligence or carelessness.

The lessor shall charge the tenant a fee in accordance with the following charging principles if the lessor is required to, for example, have the apartment cleaned, repaired or rekeyed. The tenant shall not, however, be liable for ordinary wear and tear.

Examples of the most common damage and costs coverable by the tenant have been listed below. Auroranlinna also has the right to charge the tenant according to the realised costs. All rates include 24% VAT. In the case of delayed payments, the lessor shall charge a delay penalty pursuant to the Interest Act. The lessor shall also charge a fee of 5€ for each payment reminder.
